NOTE FROM OUR DIRECTOR

Welcome to Miss Nelson is Missing! The Musical, Our very first musical cast fully with our Main Street Kids-- Our in house company for ages 12 and under. It has been an absolute joy to watch these kids grow and learn throughout this entire process.

I have always been a proponent of getting involved in theater at a young age. To these actors, it's a fun way to express themselves and make new friends. More than that though, they're learning confidence, how to work together and trust each other, and creative problem solving. Sometimes they have better ideas for their characters and the show than I do! You'll see some of them during "Worst Kids of All" when they start doing gymnastics on stage!

Miss Nelson is Missing! has been a childhood favorite book for decades. This younger@part version keeps the lessons and bright characters in tact while adding some incredible songs. Each character really gets a chance to shine on stage. It is also an incredible ensemble piece! These young actors have really become a small classroom family of their own in this short time.

Finally, I would like to thank YOU for supporting youth theater. Whether you are a parent or family member or just a community theater lover, your support is why we can do what we do and provide these kids with such a cool opportunity.
